

Home

Parkside Lending continues growth

Adds three to management team

Ben Lane

March 30, 2015

Parkside Lending, a national wholesale and correspondent lender, continued in its recent growth with the hiring of three new members to its management team.

In addition to recently adding Robin Gilmore as executive vice president of operational strategy and Joann Berger as underwriting manager, Parkside also announced the additions of Gail Dolton as general counsel, Laurie Spira as chief compliance officer and Jo-Ann Krueger as closing manager.

In her role, Dolton (pictured above) will have responsibility for managing all of Parkside's legal affairs, including the areas of corporate governance, contracts, and intellectual property.

Additionally, Dolton will also be a member of the Parkside executive team and will work closely with Parkside's compliance, audit and vendor management functions.

In her role, Spira (pictured left) will have responsibility for managing Parkside Lending's compliance management system and ensuring it is integrated into the overall framework for product design, delivery, and administration.

Spira joins Parkside from DocMagic, where she was chief compliance officer, and brings 16 years of industry experience in policies and procedures, project management, risk management, and compliance to Parkside.

In her role, Krueger (pictured right) will have responsibility for managing closings and funding personnel, as well as Parkside's Lisle, Illinois office. Krueger brings 30 years of experience in retail, wholesale and correspondent lending to Parkside Lending, including work in processing, underwriting, compliance, and closing management.

“We are privileged to expand our Parkside Lending management team with such outstanding talent that will allow us to continue our successful growth nationally,” said Parkside Lending's CEO Matthew Ostrander.

Ben Lane is a reporter for HousingWire. Previously, he worked for TownSquareBuzz, a hyper-local news service. He is a graduate of University of North Texas.