Parkside Lending, LLC, ^[1] a national wholesale and correspondent lender, recently announced that it is expanding its lending services to the state of Missouri. Parkside has been growing rapidly and with the addition of Missouri, its national expansion has now reached 48 states.

"We are excited to bring Parkside's 'power of caring' to our clients' borrowers in Missouri," said Matthew Ostrander, Chairman and CEO of

Parkside Lending. "We will deliver the same great customer experience that our clients rely on in all the other regions of the country."

Ostrander co-founded Parkside Lending in 2004. He and his management team successfully navigated the mortgage deterioration of 2007-08, and have since grown the company to become a well-known national wholesale lending platform.

Parkside Lending is a national wholesale and correspondent lender. It is committed to making a positive difference for clients and their customers. Parkside Lending's approach to underwriting, innovative suite of mortgage products, and proprietary technology help loan officers and lenders close more loans. It employs seasoned professionals who bring respect, integrity, and commonsense underwriting to every transaction. Furthermore, because it doesn't serve the retail channel, Parkside Lending's clients can be confident that it will never compete for their customers.

According to the company, each transaction is driven by a desire to make a positive difference for both its clients and customers.

"Our energetic team of seasoned professionals bring respect, integrity, and caring to every transaction; they understand they are overseeing more than just the loan process—they are stewarding each borrower's goals and dreams," Parkside Lending said on its website. "While no two loans or borrowers are ever the same, at Parkside Lending all are equally important."
